

Application Checklist

THESE ITEMS ARE REQUIRED FOR YOU TO SUBMIT YOUR APPLICATION:

Personal Statement

Your personal statement, comprised of three 500-word responses, will give you the opportunity to provide an in-depth look at your background and professional goals, as well as showcase graduate-level written communication skills.

1. Discuss your interest in the EdD program and how you believe it will help you reach your short- and long-term professional goals.
2. Considering your personal, educational and employment background, in what ways do you hope or expect to contribute to the academic and professional community at USC Rossier?
3. Choose a problem relevant to your field of practice. As an educational leader, discuss what kind of information you might need in order to address this problem and why that information is necessary and relevant to the problem you have identified.

Optional essay:

Please discuss any circumstances in your educational or employment background that you wish the admissions committee to consider and for which you did not find an opportunity to explain in the application.

If you believe your three essays and application materials represent you fairly, you should not feel obligated to answer the optional essay. You may, however, use this space to address any deficiencies or other conditions you feel may be important in the review of your application.
